HILL, JOHN

F266

Our great-grandfather, John Hill, was asked to write a letter for the Gulf Coast Historical Society telling his life story. He wrote it June 12, 1929.

The following is a small part of that letter:
"I am one of the older citizens of Moss Point.

"The L&N Railroad (under another name at that time) was being built and the first train passed over the next year, 1870. When I rode over the new bridge, I told a companion, "Look! Everything that you can see built by the hand of man, I have seen it built; bridges, wharves, buildings, the government shipyard, and water towers."
Ninety-one-hundredths of the city of Pascagoula has been built since 1869.

"Now to our greatest industry sawmilling - it is said that there were 14 mills on the water in Moss Point; the William Griffin Mill, W. Denny & Co. had two mills, Wattlesworth, William and Sam Elder, the Dantzlers, J.T. White, J.J. McIntosh, the O'Herrys and Bounds. The L.N. Dantzer Co. became the largest in this section." (He went into much detail telling what companies bought out the others and when.)

"I have helped in building all the churches in Moss Point. I have worked on railroad bridges, schooners, homes, sawmills, depots, dry kilns, two lodge rooms for Moss Point Lodge #202, also bank and drug store fixtures. I built my own home and have lived in it more than fifty years." (This is our family home on Welch Street.)

"In years past, I had been president of the Board of Supervisors, School Trustee and the first marshall of Moss Point."

"There are many incidents parked in my memory along the roadway of life and they spring out when least expected. Some are like shadows cast by the clouds as they pass overhead, others are like the sheen cast by the moonlight on the still waters of the pool or lake in the woodland. Some bring sadness as we think of friends and loved ones who have passed away, but there are many pleasant memories that crop out and tell us of the bright trails we have trod through the pathway of a long and eventful life."

We know he was also very generous, even to donating the land, thus becoming one of the founders of Machpelah Cemetery. The name, Machpelah, being taken from the Bible (Genesis, Chapter 23-25), Sarah and Abraham were buried there. He asked for no recognition, but we ride through Moss Point's riverfront town, passing the churches he helped build, visiting the cemetery he founded, seeing the homes he built, we are constantly reminded of this great man, our great-grandfather.

We can also picture in our mind's eye how thriving Moss Point must have been in those days of long ago, with Hill's Hardware Store, Hill's Mercantile, Moss Point

On a more personal note, there are numerous descendants of Daniel Jefferson Hildebrand still living in Southern Arkansas, principally Ouachita and Nevada Counties. A family book with pictures and data was compiled in the 1980's, and recently, since more genealogical information is available, many documents to verify earlier information have been collected. David Hildebrand's land patent for 40 acres (NE1/4 SE1/4 section 2, Township 18, Range 13) was in Autauga County, Alabama date of Sept. 11, 1833. Daniel J. Hildebrand's land patent for 80 acres (W1/2 SE1/4 section 2, Township 18, Range 13) was in Autauga Co., Alabama, date of Oct. 17, 1835. Daniel then sold his land there March 26, 1836, according to Alabama Old Cahaba Land Office Records (1817-1853). It is not known what happened to David Hildebrand's land.

Daniel J. and wife Dorothy, daughter of Elijah Parnell of Bibb Co., left Bibb County about 1842, possibly with a wagon train group coming to Arkansas, Preacher Pratt of Bibb County as the leader. Prattville, Arkansas is a small town in Grant County, Arkansas named for Preacher Pratt.

Daniel Jefferson Hildebrand was a gregarious man. He was involved in the communities where he lived. He was a member of the Masonic Order (master mason) Mount Moriah Lodge. No. 18, Lisbon, Union County, Arkansas. Family legend tells that he helped build the Lodge at Lisbon, and when it was finished he stood on his hands, feet up in the air, atop the roof ridge of the building to celebrate the job's completion. At least one of his sons (the writer's father, Tom) repeated the feat of standing on his hands every year on his birthday until he was well into his sixties.

James Hill

James Hill was born 10 May 1776 in what is now eastern Tennessee. He married Jane Calvert about 1804 most likely in Sevier County, Tennessee. Shortly after the War of 1812, James Hill settled in Cahaba County, Alabama. Several of his brothers who also moved into the area included: Jesse Hill, John Hill, George Hill, Alexander Hill, Robert Hill, and Pharaoh Hill. These Hill brothers were joined in the area by William Calvert, Thomas Kessee, Milton Kessee, John Goodson, and others. This area of settlement is mentioned in the Cahaba County court record dated May 1818 and is referred to as "Hill's settlement." The location of this settlement is near the present town of Johnstown, and runs along the present day Tuscaloosa-Bibb County line.

The children of James Hill and Jane Calvert Hill as identified from marriage records, census records, cemetery records, and deeds of Bibb, Tuscaloosa, and Talladega Counties: Robert (b. 23 May 1805 Tennessee) married Nancy Calvert on 16 January 1827, Tuscaloosa County, Alabama; Jane (b. 1806 Tennessee) married John A. Bagby on 6 June 1828, Tuscaloosa County, Alabama; James (b. 1 May 1813 Tennessee) married Nancy McMath on 18 August 1833, Tuscaloosa County, Alabama; Rebecca (b. 28 April 1815 Tennessee) married Andrew S. Hayter on 25 June 1844, Bibb County, Alabama; Pleasant (b. 11 August 1817 Alabama) married Catherine J. Davidson on 5 September 1844, Bibb County, Alabama; Luisa (b. 31 October 1819 Alabama) married Robert Oldham on 9 October 1837, Bibb County, Alabama; William Green Hill (b. 5 February 1821, Alabama - 27 August 1823) buried in the Hill-Oldham Cemetery in Bibb County, Alabama.

James Hill died on 25 June 1842 in Bibb County, Alabama. His wife, Jane Calvert Hill, survived him until she passed away on 30 October 1850 in Bibb County, Alabama. The couple are buried together in the Hill-Oldham Cemetery in Bibb County, Alabama.

The Hobsons of Bibb and Perry Counties

(Excerpted with permission from The Hobsons of Bibb and Perry Counties by Denver Ragland)

The progenitor of the Bibb and Perry County Hobsons was the ca 1707 immigrants from England, George and Elizabeth Lindley Hobson. This family with some seventy other Quaker families left Pennsylvania and removed to the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

there they moved to Orange County, NC, where William wife, Sarah Williams, appear in the records of Cane Creek Meeting along with other Hobson relatives.

Deep Creek, NC, meeting records show the marriage of William's and Sarah's son, Samuel, to a non-Quaker in 1791 which he was disowned. He married Jude Murphy in Surry, NC. In the early 1800s, southern Quakers began moving to Ohio because of a prophecy by a Quaker leader of a conflict over the issue of slavery. The Hobsons became a part of this movement, moving to Clinton and Warren Counties, Ohio. By 1800, Samuel and his family had moved to Alabama.

At the time of the publication of Denver Ragland's book, known children of Samuel and Jude were: Joseph, William, Ellen, Jackson and Susannah.

Since his book's publication, Mr. Ragland has discovered more children, Miranda, Feriby and Mahale. The following substantial evidence appears to solidly indicate these were daughters of Samuel Hobson: Joseph Hobson, son of Samuel, appears as part owner of a slave sold in Jefferson County, and also appears as a signator on a land transaction there. In 1822, Miranda Hobson married Joseph Linn. This remained in Jefferson County and are buried in the Bivens Cemetery. On August 8, 1822, Feriby and Mahale were married the same Justice of the Peace, Feriby to Jess McLain and Miranda to John Morgan. By 1840 the Morgan and McLain families are near the other Hobsons in the area of Mulberry Church in Bibb County. When William L. Hobson, Samuel's son, or Company H of the Alabama Infantry at the beginning of the Civil War, James, a son of the Linns, joined that company as a husband and two sons of Joseph Linn's sister who then lived in Shelby County, Tn. Joseph Hobson is listed in censuses of 1799 in North Carolina. Miranda was born in 1800. Gaps in the children of William and Jude, certainly the other children and these three women appear to fit in those years.

Joseph Hobson married Nancy, maiden name unknown. William L. married Mary Ann Bamberg. Jefferson County, Catherine Knight, possible half-sister to Mary Ann Bamberg, Ellen married Alexander Spence and moved to Mississippi. son married (1) Martha Miller and (2) Frances C. McCracker. also moved to Mississippi. Susannah married (1) William and (2) Stephen Johnson. Submitted by D.J. Rowe, Brent, AL. Further information on the Hobsons may be found in Denver Ragland's book which is available at the Brent-Centreville Library.

At the Woodmen of the World picnic at Paquette Park last Monday the voters of Jackson county were treated to more political hot air than they have had during this long summer campaign. The inclemency of the weather doubtless retarded a general turnout, as the attendance was quite small for so prominent an occasion. This county having one solid for Mr. E. H. Lewis prior to the first primary very little speaking has been heard in the county, and it was supposed a large crowd would attend, but the outpour was quite disappointing.

Mr. John R. Tally, speaking for himself, and Hon. George S. Dodds, of Gulfport, speaking for Mr. H. P. Harrison, occupied about two hours. Mr. Tally, we suppose, made his usual speech on the items of his platform, but denied that he had attempted to array one section against another, and declared himself friendly to river and harbor improvement, but did not discuss this great question with any degree of intelligent appreciation indicating any sort of familiarity with their importance or needs. Mr. Tally's jokes were good, but as heast of the hangings, the imprisonments and dire and distressing results of his achievements as district attorney were startlingly gresome.

Mr. Dodds spoke briefly and interestingly, with a style easy and pleasing. In his own account he discussed with some enthusiasm some of the issues in Mississippi politics.

Pascagoula to the Front.

The city of Pascagoula has been in a "hink lane" for a long time and now we think we can feel the wind as it comes around the turn in this lane. People are filling up the vacant houses; we are seeing new people in our midst, and the wind is changing after the rain has washed the faces of the streets, and we are expecting the wind of prosperity to soon commence to blow on us of all here; we say to all of our friends to sound the bugle note about our town and send it far away to other lands, inviting good citizens of different occupations and moneyed men to invest in some of our territory and help develop it, open up factories, etc. Now is the time for us to put our shoulders to the wheel, and in "time of peace prepare for war" of prosperity, such as we believe, after a combined effort is made by us all, will surely come. We have a fine climate, fine water, and fine lands that you can raise crops on from January to January. What more can we ask for other than more people to help us derive the good from these things by co-operation, which is one of the greatest movers to growth of a town than anything on God's green earth? The Lord has done all for this town, and we believe the people ought to wake up and do their part. So let us get a move on us all in this direction in dead earnest. xxx

Pretty Greek Wedding.

Married, at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Wm. A. Baggett, on Sunday morning, August 28th, Miss Amy Baggett, of this city, and Mr. Toufik Mickal, of New Orleans. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Angopoulos, Greek priest of New Orleans. The attendants were Mrs. Elias Kinyet, sister of the bride, and Mr. Thomas Katil as best man. A reception was held in the afternoon and the happy couple left on the evening train for New Orleans, where they expect to reside. We wish happiness for the newly married couple. We should have mentioned this affair in our last issue, but did not obtain the facts in time; as our local man was on the sick list; however, we cannot resist mentioning a good thing, even if it is a little late.

Daisy-Vestry High School Begins Session.

Vestry, Miss., Sept. 6.—The Daisy-Vestry High School began the present session's work today with a large enrollment. A large audience of school children assembled in the school auditorium and listened to a most inspiring address from Superintendent R. P. Linfield of Pascagoula.

This is a thoroughly up-to-date high school maintained in the midst of the cut-over lands of Jackson county, is well-known in educational circles as having won the first prize over the remainder of the State for school improvement work in 1909. A new dormitory, and the addition of an eighty-acre tract of land donated by L. N. Dantzler of Moss Point places this institution as the leading rural high school in the State. The faculty consists of: W. H. Robinson, principal; Misses Maude Pope, Clara Mize and Gladys McDade, assistants.

Mississippians Weds.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 3.—John Hill, sixty-one, a wealthy contractor of Moss Point, Miss., left today for that town with his sixty-three-year-old bride, who was Mrs. Frances M. Shepardson. The couple were married last night at the home of the bride's son, G. A. Shepardson, in Webster Grove, a St. Louis suburb. Rev. George Belfry, pastor of Old Orchard Congregational church, officiated, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. Among those present were two sons of the bride, G. A. Shepardson, former superintendent of the Old Orchard schools, and L. M. Shepardson, chief clerk of the freight department of the Illinois Central Railroad. Her other son, C. O. Shepardson, of San Francisco, could not attend, but his wife was present.

The couple first met several years ago, when she was visiting friends in the South. They both had been widowed for years and were about the same age. Their friendship soon grew into love.

"A Fair Proposition."

Every man, woman, boy and girl desires a wheel. It is natural that every one should want a bicycle, as it is the one source of real pleasure and healthfulness combined which all can equally enjoy at a very little cost.

The cost to you will be nothing—just send to the Taylor-Trotwood Publishing Company, Nashville, Tenn., a postal and let them tell you how to make $30.00 and secure a bicycle as a premium.

You are not obligated to accept this proposition, but we want an opportunity to tell you what we have to offer.

of the United States.

Genealogy File

Brother John Hill, Sr., the eldest citizen and Masen of Moss Point, Mississippi, passed away at his home in Moss Point on the 13th day of September, 1930, after being suddenly stricken for a few hours. He was born near London, England, on the 12th of December, 1848, and moved with his father and the family to the United States while only a few years old. He was educated in the public schools of Wisconsin, and learned the trade of Ship Carpenter under his father in New Orleans. There he was made an Entered Apprentice Masen on the 30th day of March, 1875, by St. John Lodge No. 153 in Algiers, Louisiana. He having moved to Moss Point, by request of St. John Lodge, Pascagoula Lodge No. 202, recently changed to Moss Point Lodge No. 202, conferred on him the Fellow Craft degree, and on June 20, 1876 made him a Master Masen, which he remained until the time of his death.

Soon after taking up his residence in Moss Point, he was married to Miss Maria Welch, who died some twenty years ago. By this union he was blessed with six children, of which all except two are left to mourn his death. He was engaged in the mercantile business for many years, and was elected a member of the Board of Supervisors of Jackson County, and served the term with fidelity and trust to the people. After the death of his first wife he married Mrs. Fannie Shepardson, by whom he is survived, and also several grand-children and great-grand-children. He was a good and upright citizen, respected and honored by all who knew him.

This Lodge tenders to his bereaved family its sympathy and condolence in the loss of their dear relative.

Therefore the Lodge expresses its sympathy to his memory as an honored member and a worthy brother.

Therefore be it resolved that this Resolution be spread upon the Minutes of this Lodge, and that copies of it be sent to the bereaved family.

Respectfully submitted,

Family Reunion And Dinner At Home Of Mrs. John Hill, Friday

Mrs. John Hill entertained at her home on Friday noon with a dinner and family reunion.

Reception rooms of the home were lovely with decorations of autumn leaves and chrysanthemums.

The dining room was especially attractive with the table laid with a handsome linen and cut lace cloth, having a centerpiece of a horn of plenty and lighted yellow candles in brown holders stood on each end of the table. Places were marked with miniature baskets of candy. The buffet was decorated with autumn leaves and a pumpkin filled with chrysanthemums, carrying out the harvest motif.

Those who enjoyed this pleasant affair together were Mrs. D. C. Halsten and daughter, Miss Sadie Halsten, and Mrs. J. E. Prench, of Birmingham; Mr. Cecil Gaylor, Austin, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Renfro, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Renfro, Miss Oleta Renfro, and Doris Newman of this city, and Mr. R. B. Grant of Biloxi.

TRAGIC DEATH OF BURTON HILL

The funeral of Burton Hill of Moss Point, whose death occurred at the City Hospital in Mobile on Wednesday morning, December 3, was held in Pascagoula Thursday afternoon, from the residence of the aunt of deceased, Mrs. Eugene Gautier, Rev. Father Hunter of the Catholic church officiating. Interment was in Macpelah cemetery.

Burton Hill, who was only 19 years of age, died as the result of an automobile accident which occurred at Theodore, Alabama, on last Saturday night. Hill and a companion, Wallace Hinson, were returning from Mobile, and were met by a car driven by a Mr. Hills of Biloxi, and there was a dense fog that blinded the drivers of both cars, which collided. Both cars were damaged, the Hinson car being turned completely over, but the Biloxi car was only thrown into the ditch and none of its occupants hurt, so far as is known. Young Hinson was considerably bruised, but not seriously hurt. Young Hill was taken to Mobile for the City Hospital and operated upon, but was so badly injured internally that peritonitis set in, and he died Wednesday morning.

Young Hill was the son of the late Walter Hill of Moss Point, and was born and reared in Moss Point. He was a young man of good character and was well liked by all who knew him. He had been employed at the Moss Point mill of the Southern Kraft Corporation. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Walter Hill, four brothers and one sister, all of Moss Point.

To the bereaved ones this paper extends, along with many friends, deepest sympathy in their tragic and untimely loss.
